The lodge dignitaries have been the guests of the Rome for some time and gave the cane as their department to express their appreciation of Mr. Anderson's service.

Big Suit for $10,400.—A suit for $10,400 was brought against the street railway company in district court Saturday morning by Mrs. Agnes Carr, who alleges that she was damaged in that amount by injuries she sustained in a fall received June 20. The plaintiff alleges that the car started suddenly at Fortieth and Cumming streets as she was attempting to alight, and threw her heavily against the guard rail, causing internal injuries.

Runaway Team Breaks Window.—The entire front of the Omaha Automobile company's saleroom, 1210 Farnham street, was crashed out at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a runaway team hit to a lumber wagon. The horses had gathered speed from Twentieth and Douglas streets, where they were frightened. The plate glass window in the front of the automobile company, 1210 feet, was demolished, as were the doors and casings adjoining it. The loss was estimated at $100. The horses were practically unharmed. They belonged to L. D. Kelpner of Millard.

Five Hit Pavement When Carriage and Wagon Run Together

None is Seriously Hurt When Farm Wagon and Carriage Collide on Cumming Street.

Five persons were injured at 8 o'clock last night when a carriage in which they were riding collided with a farm wagon on Cumming street, a half block south of Twentieth. The horses of the carriage were running away and crash the buggy into the curb. The buggy was capsized and its occupants hurled upon the pavement in all directions.

The horse was driven by Philip Smith, 133 South Twenty-eighth street, and in the carriage were his daughters, Agnes, 17, and Gertrude, 15, his brother, James Smith of Wichita, Kan., and a neighbor, Hugh McMorley, 131 South Twenty-eighth street. None was dangerously hurt.

The injured were taken into houses near the scene of the accident, where they were attended by Police Surgeon Charles J. Peppers. Afterward they were taken to the home of a relative, Neal Smith, 800 Cass street, from whose house they were driving when the accident occurred.

McMorley was badly bruised on the left hip and may have sustained internal injuries. Agnes Smith sustained a fracture of the right wrist and was badly bruised and lacerated about the head. Her sister Gertrude received only a slight cut over the left eye. The father suffered abrasions about the head and right shoulder, while James Smith escaped with only a few minor bruises.

The wagon with which they had collided was owned and driven by N. L. Quisenberry, a farmer who lives northwest of the city. Quisenberry said the runaway was not caused by any fault of his. He declared that Smith was driving with loose reins and the horse pulled into his wagon. The collision broke one of the shafts, frightening the horse and causing it to run away. The horse was badly cut.

The party in the carriage was returning from the Union station, where they had met James Smith, master mechanic of the Cudahy Packing company of Wichita, who had just arrived. They went to visit at the home of Neal Smith, west of the depot. The runaway occurred when they were returning home.

Slayers Bear Body Safely Past Porch

Two Men Succeed in Getting Woman to Ravine by Supporting Her Between Them.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 6.—The body of the murdered woman found in a sewer here yesterday has not been identified.

Police today worked on the theory that the victim was killed and then hauled to the vicinity of the sewer in a carriage. This theory has support in the story told by the man who says that eight nights ago he and his wife, from their front porch, saw two men and a woman depart from a carriage and proceed toward the ravine in which the sewer is located. Later the men returned alone and drove away, he said.

Wilson said that when the three started toward the sewer "they walked slowly and held each other by the arms, the woman in the center."

Wilson said that he knew the third party in the crowd was a woman because her white shirtwaist was visible in the gloom. The waist on the corpse was white with small pink dots.

Police heard today that a boy found a plain gold ring near the mouth of the sewer, inscribed on the inside with the name "Carrie Smith."

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Boosters' Club Plans to Hold Celebration Labor Day.

WILL ASSIST AT THAT TIME

Purpose is to Keep Public in South Omaha by Providing Them Lively Up-to-Date Entertainment.

Weldon Seriously Hurt.

Plans are forming looking to a monster Labor day or a celebration similar in tone to the one inaugurated by the Boosters' club on the Fourth of July, last.

The labor organizations will take up the consideration of ways and means at tomorrow night's meeting. "It is safe to say," said one of the labor leaders, "that the thing will be carried through." The Boosters' club, composed of business men of the city, will, it is understood, take hold of the proposition as soon as the labor organizations have signified their determination to co-operate.

In support of the proposed demonstration it is urged that South Omaha is a town whose citizenship is largely composed of the laboring class. Unless the city provide a celebration at home the labor people will go out of town to participate in the Omaha celebration. This the business men are opposed to for several reasons.

In the first place, they say, the excess of the laboring people and nightworkers on Labor day will take a great deal of money out of town. Last of all the business men and the Boosters' club are frankly pledged to home celebration which they say does an incalculable amount of good towards making the citizens a unit in the development of the town.

While the plans for the Labor day celebration are yet in embryo, some of the leaders expressed themselves in favor of having a monster parade, including representatives of every craft in the city. It is also proposed to carry out a special program of frontier entertainment at syndicate parties.

James Weldon Hurt.

James Weldon, driver for the Union Block Yards company, residing at Thirty-second and U streets, was thrown from his wagon at Thirty-second and L streets yesterday evening at 4:30 o'clock and severely injured about the head and body. Weldon, it is understood, was driving east when another wagon coming from the west caused his team to take fright. Dashing down the street Weldon's team is said to have become entangled with another, causing Weldon to lose his balance and fall from the vehicle.

Dr. A. H. Koenig, who was called, found that the injured man suffered several contusions about the head, bruised his hips and knees and fractured five ribs on his left side. He was for a while rendered unconscious. Dr. Koenig ordered him to the Boone Omaha hospital, where at a late hour he was said to be resting easy.

Best Repair Work in the City.

Crescent, The Shoeman, at our new location. Mayor Trainor has indicated to the city attorney the need of an ordinance constituting a new civic officer, whose duty it shall be to inspect weights measures, gas, water and electricity. The mayor has had the matter under consideration for some time and is urged to renewed effort to the repeated complaints of the citizens. However that they have no redress against the decisions of the inspectors paid by the public service corporations of the city. The mayor indicated a case where a city inspector would be a protection against the arbitrary decisions of public service corporations.

As to the appointment the mayor could not say when it would be made. He said the city attorney would prepare the ordinance and that the council would be called upon to act immediately thereafter. The new officer if he is appointed will receive a liberal salary, but the mayor bluntly declared that the appointment would be made with reference to the technical qualifications of the applicant rather than to any other consideration. "It will be useless to poster me with applications for the place until it has been created, said his honor, and then I shall choose some one who is a skilled mechanic and who knows and understands thoroughly the duties of the office."

Roberts Solves Problem.

City Engineer George Roberts has just devised a plan for making a double roadway with a parked terrace between the higher and lower sides of the street on Twenty-seventh between G and J streets. The plan is a unique one among municipal engineers and, besides having the advantage of saving the abutting property owners considerable money, will solve the difficulty of paving and grading a street, whose two sides have a difference in height amounting to about thirty-five feet.

As the engineer sees the matter, it will cost all the property owners in that section a goodly sum either to lower or raise the present grade according as they are on the higher or lower side of the street. The engineer approximates the cost of the work at $60,000.

The expense, he says, will be eliminated if his plan for a parked terrace between a double roadway will be accepted by the property owners.

It is proposed according to the plan to maintain a twenty-foot roadway on the high side of the street and a twenty-foot roadway on the lower side, with a parked terrace of twenty feet connecting the two roads. This plan has been successfully adopted in Kansas City, where there are numerous hills and hills to be overcome by municipal engineers. The double terrace in the center of the way gives a beautiful park-like effect and does much towards the increase of property values.

Somewhere in this city of conglomerated smells there is an individual the keenness of whose olfactory perceptions led him unerringly to the Rock Island depot at Twenty-fourth and Washington streets, where he broke into a box car containing whisky last Friday night.

The thirty-one appropriated one case of triple X, sixty-horse power booze and betook himself to the shady side of a nearby string of "smutties," where he pulled out a bottle and proceeded to absorb the contents of his plundered ambrosia. He is thought to have reached the bacchanalian Nirvana about the sixth bottle.

Chief of Detectives Jimmie Sheahan, on a little tour of investigation, discovered a half case of the whisky where the dry one had abandoned the same after having tried his thirst.

"Did you catch the thief?" epigrams asked Chief Sheahan. "We did not," responded the sleuth with a twinkle in his eye, "but you can say that there is a half case of extra fine whisky in the hands of the police waiting"—claimants, suggested his questioning, "Consumption," hastily corrected the chief as he looked towards that corner of his office where the liquid "evidence" is kept.

Fast Hand Ball Game.

Mike Calkin and Morgan Reedy, two veterans of the hand ball court, displayed their accustomed prowess Saturday evening when they defeated Jack McKelley and Dave Callahan after a fast game with a score of 21 to 12 at the Young Men's Christian association court.

It is understood that the game was played on a water by which Calkin, who is a haberdasher, had agreed to supply the cements and Reedy, whose days are spent among the cheerful surroundings of an undertaker's shop, had agreed to supply the other funeral accessories of the two firemen in case the veterans should suffer defeat. The result of the game makes it necessary for the fire chief and his conferees to provide other arrangements for their funerals.

Omaha Woman Tries Suicide in Lincoln

Mrs. Roy Smith Daughter of C. Henry Cook, Saved from Death by Own Hand.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Aug. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Roy Smith, 30 years old, wife of Roy Smith, an Omaha traveling salesman, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide in this city today. What she claims to be desertion by her husband led her to try to put an end to herself.

The woman came here some time ago, she alleges, on the promise of Smith that he would furnish her and their 13-month-old child with a regular monthly allowance. This, however, has not been forthcoming recently and she had no money to live on. The woman, while friends had her baby on the streets for a time late this afternoon, swallowed two bicarbonate tablets, but less than five minutes afterward repeated her deed and called up a drug store and asked for a physician.

The doctor rushed to the rooming house where she lived and succeeded after three hours' work in restoring her to consciousness. Mrs. Smith claims that she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Henry Cook of Omaha, proprietors and owners of the Sterling of that city. She says she and Smith have been married two years. She announced her intention of making the trip to her parents' home tomorrow. Further she asserts that she expects to start divorce proceedings against her husband, alleging non-support.

Mrs. C. Henry Cook of the Sterling apartments of Omaha was informed of the attempted suicide of her daughter. She expected her to return to her home in Omaha soon, but said Saturday night she did not know of her daughter's plight or her intention of getting a divorce.

Report in Day Portrait Case is Approved

Findings of Fact in Connection with W. H. Michael and Thomas W. Morrison Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Over strenuous republican opposition the house today approved the "findings of fact" in the committee report on the State department in the Day portrait voucher case and sent it to President Taft with the recommendation that he take "appropriate action touching the same."

The committee, in its conclusions, charged W. H. Michael, formerly chief clerk of the State department and now United States consul general at Calcutta, with misappropriation of funds, and Thomas W. Morrison, disbursing clerk of the State department, with participation in the alleged misappropriation either by incompetence or connivance.

The final vote was 137 to 123 on a substitute offered by Representative Hallin of Missouri, chairman of the committee, for his resolution, under which the house would have adopted the report as a whole. Many democrats had joined the republicans in objecting to the original resolution on the grounds that it would be improper for the house to suggest to the president the action he should take, as the report advised the dismissal of Michael and Morrison from public service. When the substitute was adopted the vote was practically on party lines.

The Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church met Friday afternoon at the home of the pastor, where the usual business affairs of the organization were transacted. Following a business session Mrs. R. N. Ford presented a beautiful fountain pen to Mrs. F. P. Morrison, who is leaving the city for a month, where she will make her future home.

RUSSIA NOT BACKING SHAH

Request for Financial Aid Refused and Troops Have Nothing But Promises of Pay.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 6.—Soon after leaving in Persia, Mohammed Ali Mirza, the deposed shah who is now attempting to regain his throne, addressed a request for financial aid to a high quarter in St. Petersburg. The request, however, was refused. Mohammed Ali apparently lacks funds, but to some extent this deficiency has been met by seizure of government stores along the line of march. The Turkish forces seem satisfied with promises of ultimate reward, but general pillaging along the way is likely to occur.

Allegations that Russia is conniving in Mohammed Ali's attempt to get back in power are denied by responsible officials here. It is pointed out that the petitions are being circulated in the German and Austrian press and it is believed that there is a desire in those countries to create trouble between Great Britain and Russia.

It is true that Russia regards the government now in power in Persia as incompetent, but the ex-shah's record is equally bad. In case Mohammed Ali regains the throne, he can keep it only if he pays heed to Russian financial councils. Every department of the Persian administration, according to the view here, needs Russian and British reorganizations and it is Frankly stated that it is not likely that the American financial experts will remain under Mohammed Ali, as the Russo-British interests in Persia are too important to allow control by outsiders.
